

Are you a young woman interested in science, technology, engineering, or math? Thinking about making it your career?

Join us to learn about launching your STEM career

We have a panel of young women who will talk about their budding careers in research, software, coding, math, and technology startups. They will discuss what it's like to be starting your career in a STEM field and how to prosper.

Saturday, November 8, 2014 at 1:00 p.m.
Holy Names High School in Oakland

free and open to the public

...but we'd really appreciate an RSVP through EventBrite:

www.eventbrite.com/e/launching-your-stem-career-young-women-talk-about-their-jobs-in-stem-tickets-13785295189

Presented by the Oakland-Piedmont branch of AAUW, a nonpartisan nonprofit organization advancing equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research since 1881. www.aauw.org oaklandpiedmont-ca.aauw.net

Hosted by Holy Names High School a small Catholic school for young women, provides an academically challenging college preparatory education in a vibrant learning environment. Our diverse community nurtures spirituality, encourages artistic expression, and promotes justice, preparing the next generation for leadership and service. For directions, go to: hnhsoakland.org/directions/